Case of Lewis Vs. Government

April I deadline.

Allogether, three things about the case now have been established beyond doubl. First. Mr. Lewis cannot get what he wants without defying the government's authority and prestige, Second, confronted with a similar situation on a previous occasion. Mr. Lewis defied the government's authority and prestige and got away with it. Third, if the same thing happens again the chances are at least two to one that congress will take further determination of government policy concerning labor into its own hands. which won't be half so tender as the helping hand the New Deal has stretched out to all labor leaders, including John L. WPB Calling for 120,000,000 Tons of Forest Products.

By JACK STINNETT Washington Correspondent WASHINGTON, March 25 -

And that the War Manpower Commission and Selective Service have made no effort to restore the 50,000 men who have been drafted from or allowed to desert the lumber industry for higher calaried war jobs. Lumber workers too late.

According to lumbermen with representatives here, the U.S. Forest Service seeks to compet forest and farm woodland owners. to adopt "sustained yield" for-estry practices. The lumbermen claim that theusands of them already have placed millions of notes under sustained-vield manaccident but that to by to institute a wholesale enforcement program of this type now would be one more spinior to all-out war production. For example, they say, it would take from 15 to 20 ner continuers maripower to mainto nishen a program, without his c.east.a the present necessary warrane vields

Army, Navy and War Production

The lumbermen quote the Army in saying that in actual tonnage, food is the only product in greater demand than wood. This year's call on the industry is 120,000,000 lons, while the peak estimates of wartime needs for steel run in the neighborhood of 100,000,000 tons. Where does it all go?

When we were only preparing for war, lumber was needed for barracks, mess-balls, hospitals, and housing. Other vast quanti-ties were demanded for scaffolds on the ship ways.

Wood is also one of the chief materials in our now-famous PT boats, in mine trawlers, patrol boats, barges, and training planes. Britain's well - known bombers, the "Mosquito," is made mostly of wood.

Aside from this, much of our domestic and foreign shipping of war supplies moves in worden erates and boxes.

Used in "Block-Busters"

The principal ingredient of nitro-cellulose explosives is cellulose, which comes from the pulp of American trees. It's used in "block-buster" bombs, in depth charges, and even in small trus ammunition. The list of other war uses for wood is almost endless.

Lumbermen say, however, that there's plenty of raw timber and the estimates of the most pessimistic back them up.

Forest industry representatives here give you these figures: In 1941 (anticipating defense needs) they jumped production from 29 billion board feet to 35.7 billions. In 1942 the output dropped to 34

The decline they lay to losses in manpower, shortages in equipnow are "foren"-but, they say, ment and unfavorable weather.

Dr. Wilson Compton, spokes-man for the American Forest Products Industries, calls the 1942 production "a notable achievement.

The industry, he says, "yielded 96 per cent as much lumber as in 1941, but did it with 15 per cent fewer workers in industry and 22 per cent fewer workers in the woods.

Perhaps it really isn't strange that a controversy has arisen over the lumber situation. Although lumber has been one of our great industries since the first block-house by the first colonists, this is imber's first war.

In World war I, lumbering wasn't even considered an essential industry. That isn't hard to understand when you think in terms of rubber, high octane casene, and the many other things the uses of which have multiplied nousands of times in this all-out

Save that old Living Room Suite, that fine old Easy Chair— Have it Revitabilt

Honestly, you will never believe what a beautiful suite you may have by just choosing a brand new cover and making over that fine old suite of yours.

That suite for which you paid a great big price ten, fifteen or twenty years ago can be made more lovely than new by having it Revitabilt right in a factory that has been making fine suites for more than 50 years.

This Revitabilt service is no make-shift patch work. Your suite is torn down to the bare wood. The wood is strengthened and exposed parts refinished by expert mechanics.

Then the new cover is sewed on by master uphalsterers: You won't recognize the old suite when it comes back to you.

Would you like the names of some of the fine homes in which we have already placed Revitabilt suites? That will convince you. We will be glad to give you the names if you will just stop in.

The folks who have tried this unusual service are mighty glad they did. And so will you be, too.

PACKERS WARN MEAT STILL TO BE SCARCE

Rationing Won't Assure Ample Supply. Public Told.

By The Associated Press CHICAGO, March 25 - The rnear packing industry today wanted to get across one fact to the public-ment comes from livesiock, nor from ration books, and the establishment of rount values will not or uself guarante too the amount of ment available. . Estimates of how much meat you can get if you use your points in this or that manner are all highly theoretical-you may have the points, but the question is will the butcher have the meat?

During April the government will take between 30 and 89 per cent of all meat produced in federally inspected packing plants. The smallest government chases will be of yeal, at 30 per cent, and the largest for lower quality beef, at 80 per cent. It is estimated government buying in April will consume 35 per cent of all lamb and mutton, 45 per cent of all pock and 50 these plants. With government purchasing on this scale, it is obvious to packers that anyone who expects to see previously half-empty butcher cases suddenly bulge with steaks and chops next week, simply because rationing is in effect, will suffer a bad disillusionment.

Packers pointed out, also, the peak season for hog slaughter had passed. Sheep slaughter also normaily declines during the spring and summer months, here usually is a slight falling-off in cattle

The normal spring downturn in shipments already is well un-derway, according to the department of agriculture.

Do you judge a DIAMOND

by its size?

Size and weight are the last things to consider when judging a diamond. Far more important are brilliance, color and perfection. It's easy to believe you are saving money by getting a bigger diamond for less money. But mere size without quality will only lead to disappointment later.

Befare you choose any diamond, we invite you to come in and have a talk with our diamond experts. They'll be glad to explain the difference in diamonds. There's as obligation,

The trouble is that, technically, no one is allowed to buy meat with the ration books of anyone cuisine of his immediate fimily.

There are a lot more wrinkles in the program. If you go to a delicatessen and buy sandwich meat, you have to give him ration coupons, but if you have him make up the meat into sandwiches -and it is part of his regular business to make sandwiches—erate oven 25 min.

One of the most unusual features of the program permits, for the first two months of rationing, bargain sales of meat at reduced coupon costs determined by butchers or other dealers on their own initiative. They can cut point values in this manner if they are overstocked with some products that are in danger of spoilage.

Most popular meats were peg-ged at 8 points per pound, but the average is 6, due to the fact that OPA set some "bargains" of its own at 1 point per pound for bacon rind, pigs cars, and fresh pigs feet. OPA also lived up to its reputation for daring the most diffi-cult problems by solving the mystery of "what is hamburger?" Hamburger, by OPA regulation, "beef ground from necks, flanks, shanks, briskets, plates, and miscellaneous beef trimmings and beef fats." As far as OPA

Bradley Considers Heath as Resigning from Game

By The Associated Press LAFAYETTE, Ind., March 25 .-The Cleveland Indians' President Alva Bradley declared yesterday viewed holdout outfielder Jeff Heath as a player "who has re-signed from baseball."

The slugging fly chaser frequently has been difficult to sign, and already has missed more than a week of this year's abbreviated spring practice.

"I don't look on Heath as a holdout," Bradley declared. "I look on him as a player who has resigned from baseball." The Tribe official said Heath had taken the position that he wouldn't play unless his terms were met, "and we're not meeting them."

YOUR HEALTH By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D. Stitch in the Side

EVERY BOY and young man breath, who is training for track, every soldler and WAAC who is ordered to the double quick march, every man or weman who is able to run for a street car, knows the sensu-tion, of the stitch in the side. Sometimes it is severe enough to double you up completely. It certainly automatically steps the ex-

What causes it? It sometimes breathed, but he did not need the creates apprehension in the mind of the exerciser that there is a cancer of heart failure or some other dread condition. That uniother dread condition. That imperential the person of the loy mind, appendicitis, is not invoked in not see as he looked down at most instances because the "attich" me with stormy eyes. In 80 per cent of cases is on the in 80 per cent of cases is on the left side.

that a distinguished physician of Chicago, Dr. Richard B. Capps, has stooped to make an experimental investigation of this subject. Distinguished physicians usu-ally want to investigate some

Dr. Capps made experiments on 53 persons who had this side pain. The usual explanation, as he notes, is that during the exercise the splean descends and pulls on its attachments. But this does not clear up the cases in which the pain is on the right side, because the spicen happens to be leasted on the left.

For this and other reasons he rejects all other interpretations of its causation. He lays it to the increased work which the dia-phragm does during exercise.

The diaphragm is the muscle which activates breathing. When any demand is made on any ne-tivity of the body, the diaphragin lakes the burden of the work. Why should it not then cry out in pain when the effort is teo great" A Like any muscle, it needs blood for its work, sometimes less in quiet moments, sometimes resemble in seconds of stress. Dr. Capps thinks from his experiments that the "stitch in the side" is caused by anoxonia of the diaphragm. You may look up the meaning of anoxemia yourself in the dictionary.

Possible Danger

The only danger I see in this discussion is that some middle-aged friend of mine, while running for a street car, will disre-gard the "stitch" in his side and will not remember that angina is also brought on by exercise. But the candidates for the track team. being less than middle-aged, need not worry about this,

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS J. R.: Does the habit of talking aloud in sleep indicate any nerve or brain lesion? Is there any treatment? Answer: There is no indication that there is any brain or nerve trouble in a person who talks in his sleep. The only treatment 1 know for it is to sleep far, far away from one's fellow human beings.

The Stars Say-

For Friday, March 26 A DAY of problems and conflicting circumstances with what is astrologically known as "mixed influences" is forecast from the puzzling lunar chart. There are signs of highly stimulated activities, with all manner of public as well as private interests coming up for wise and calculated disposal. Many factors are at work, with teromen of estrangements or obstructions. Those whose birthday it is are at the threshold of a year to tax their efficiency, sound sense, determination and acumen, as well as their ability to make revoltionary and bold strokes to gain their inspiring objectives even though estrangements, separations, radical change and personal antagonisms may arise.

A child born on this day may be exceptionally talented, original and versatile, with high ambitions and aspirations. These may attract support from high places.
